It's particularly helpful, I've found, to keep talking to people about what will be the step after the current one, so that when the current step doesn't succeed, people have already thought and planned for the next step. This cuts delays and forces people to think about the process and the ultimate goal, and not just the next possible solution.

Syklet / gikk Postveien fra Vågseidet til Hundvin i helgen. Fin turvei, men kom over dette usikrede spillolje deponiet langs veien. Pos: 60° 42' 19,9" N , 5° 13' 16,1" E.
Håper dere kan få grundeieren å rydde opp før noe lekker ut.
