This is an aerial satellite-style photograph of a commercial property. On the left, a large, dark-roofed building is visible. To its right is a parking lot filled with numerous vehicles, including cars and trucks. A road curves around the building and parking area. In the center, there is a large, mostly empty paved area with some scattered debris and a few vehicles. To the right of this paved area, there is a cluster of smaller, colorful structures or trailers. A road with a '565' sign runs along the bottom of the image. The surrounding area includes green grass, trees, and a rocky embankment.
